

Reviewer and Data Agreements

Contracts with experts and customers

Reviewer agreement

Every reviewer signs an independent contractor agreement with a present assignment of all rights in the work produced, a confidentiality undertaking, and a bar on using any customer material outside the platform.

Payment terms to reviewers

Paid per accepted item, settled fortnightly. No claw back once an item is accepted. Adjudicated corrections are paid to both reviewers, which is deliberate: we do not want reviewers guessing what the adjudicator wants.

Customer terms

Work for hire. All delivered data and derived rights vest in the customer on payment. Anvaya retains no licence to resell any customer specific dataset.

Confidentiality

Two of three customers are named only under NDA in this data room. Their identity can be disclosed to a lead investor under a separate confidentiality undertaking.
