

How to Request Access

For investors reading this room

Reading this room

This index room contains a one page profile for each company in the cohort. It is deliberately short. Nothing here is confidential.

Requesting a company room

Each company has its own full data room with financials, contracts, technical documentation and legal files. Access is granted per investor by the founder, not by LIVE, and is revocable at any time.

Asking a question

Every document carries an Ask a question action. The question reaches the LIVE programme manager with the document and the page it came from attached, so the answer is specific.

What the founder sees

The founder sees that you opened the room and which sections you spent time in. This is disclosed to every investor up front, because a room that watches you without saying so is not a room anyone should trust.
